ITG, a leading Jordanian company specialized in Educational Solutions, participates in the 4th International Conference on ICT for Development, Education and Training “eLearning Africa” taking place in Senegal

Amman- May 4, 2009

In its efforts to expand its offerings to new markets worldwide, Jordanian company Integrated Technology Group will be participating in the 4th International Conference on ICT for Development, Education, and Training “eLearning Africa” taking place this year in Senegal’s capital Dakar, May 27th – 29th, 2009. During the conference, ITG will be showcasing its innovative educational platform EduWave® and its e-content development services, and will be sharing its vision and experience with conference participants from over 50 countries from Africa and other parts of the world.

Commenting on its participation in this important conference, ITG’s VP/Business Development Batoul Ajlouni said, “Educational reform has become extremely significant in countries and regions worldwide. Africa is one of the most heavily populated and culturally diverse regions in the world. With over 50 countries, and almost 1 billion people of which around 40% are children under 14, education is key to achieving sustainable development, and to alleviate poverty and several other challenges faced by many of its nations”. She continued, “With the Millennium Development Goals, and the various initiatives taking place on the ground, ITG believes that its innovative approach and educational technologies through its EduWave platform, are uniquely positioned to align seamlessly with such educational development programs”.

EduWave is a web-based, end-to-end e-Learning and Educational Management Platform that serves as a unique model for 21st century teaching and learning. It is a most comprehensive solution that includes Learning Management (LMS), Content Management (CMS), Instructional Management (IMS), and Student Information (SIS) systems all seamlessly integrated in one solution allowing related educational elements to work together in the most effective manner. The international award winning solution EduWave is multilingual, and is available in two editions (K-12) and (Higher-Ed). Based on international industry standards, learning outcomes and learning objects, EduWave is a flexible and customizable solution that allows educational bodies to shape their learning process. With over two million users in the Middle East and the U.S., EduWave is uniquely designed to handle countrywide deployments and serve millions of users.

ITG welcomes eLearning Africa participants to visit its booth at (Booth #23), and learn more about its approach and educational solutions. More information about ITG is available at www.itgsolutions.com.
