LPLUS – Enjoy you examination

The customers of the GmbH LPLUS took more than 2.000.000 computer supported individual tests with the LPLUS-system in the last 20 years. The international experience gained over many years in various fields of examination management has made LPLUS one of the major providers and respected partners of numerous Authorities, educational institutions and companies. Today the name LPLUS stands for on-screen eExaminations and eTesting procedures – alongside the satisfied customers.

European market leader

The LPLUS-System is an integrated software for extent automatised examination management, which supports effectively the entire process of the administrative preparation, the examination procedures and its completion and statistics. The confirmation of the level of knowledge attained by examinees is always well managed and controlled – from entry tests to official final examinations leading to certification. The software interface is user friendly for all parties involved in the examination process: administrators, examination setters and examinees. Due to an intuitive user prompting, even inexperienced persons are able to quickly create complex examinations.

Innovative types of questions

Alongside “classical” types of examination questions, the LPLUS system enables the creation and the use of innovative types of questions, through the integration of multimedia objects and Office documents, such as graphs, charts and tables. This enriches the experience of those sitting an examination. The different versions of the LPLUS system can be used as web based ASP solutions as well as in LAN / Intranet networks. The customer-oriented price schemes lead to a good return on investment and a fast recovery of the costs.
